

Important: The introduction of Matt Jones is a key element of his presentation. Reading it in an upbeat and energetic way creates the right mood and atmosphere, allowing the audience to get the full value and experience from Matt Jones.

Matt Jones is a three-time cancer conqueror, professional speaker, author, founder of the Real Leadership Academy, and is pursuing a PhD in Organizational Leadership.

On Sept. 11, 2002 at the age of twenty-three, he was diagnosed with cancer. The cancer spread to his brain and he slipped into an unconscious state. His doctors did not think he would live.

Against all odds Matt recovered. He had a bone marrow transplant, had to relearn how to walk, and has run in marathons around the world including San Diego, Rome, Tokyo, and Peru. His goal is to complete a marathon on every continent.

Using the marathon as a metaphor, Matt shares how to develop a "Marathon Mentality" to overcome adversity, stay motivated, and achieve greater success.

Let's give Matt Jones a Big Round of Applause!
